ORDER

By motion [\[30\]](#), plaintiff seeks permission to conventionally file an exhibit because it exceeds three megabytes in size. The court has adopted a procedure for filing large documents, and the plaintiff will be required to follow that procedure in this instance.

IT IS ORDERED that plaintiff's MOTION FOR LEAVE TO FILE CONVENTIONALLY [\[30\]](#) is denied. Plaintiff shall, forthwith, electronically file its Exhibit A1 to the Evidentiary Index [\[31\]](#) in Support of its Reply Brief using the procedure published on the court's CM/ECF Procedures and Training Page. A copy of the procedure is attached to this Order.

DATED August 12, 2008.

United States Magistrate Judge

Filing Lengthy Attachments in CM/ECF

Before you begin

Convert all documents to be filed with the court into .pdf format. Note the size<sup>1</sup> of each PDF and the aggregate size of the filing, keeping in mind that documents filed on the CM/ECF system cannot exceed 5 megabytes (MB) per PDF.

The court recommends keeping the aggregate file size of each CM/ECF transaction to under 20 megabytes<sup>2</sup>. (i.e., no more than six or seven 5 MB attachments).

Scanning Tips

The process of scanning documents can produce files that easily exceed the 5 MB limit. The list below provides tips for reducing the file size of scanned documents.

- C Set scanner resolution to 200 dpi.
- C Set scanner image type to “black and white” (do not use “24-bit color” or “grayscale” as these produce extremely large files.)
- C In lieu of scanning depositions, request them in electronic format and convert to PDF electronically using a word processor.

Note: With the proper scanner settings, a 5 MB file should be able to contain 100 pages or more.

Attachments exceeding 20 MB

If the aggregate size of all attachments is more than 20 MB, the court recommends splitting the filing into two or more transactions. Follow the steps in the table below to file the index as multiple transactions.

Step	Action
1	File the Index of Evidence and the first 20 MB of attachments (up to four 5 MB .pdf files) using the Index event from the Other Documents menu.  Note : When prompted for related filings, select the motion category, then select the motion to which the index relates.
2	For each subsequent 20 MB of attachments, choose the Index-Continued event in the Other Documents menu.  Note : When prompted for related filings, select the motion category, then select the motion to which the index relates.

<sup>2</sup>In a recent stress test, using a high-speed Internet connection, the court filed pleadings with an aggregate file size of 40 MB. On average, the process took 45 minutes. Sometimes it completed successfully, and at other times, a server error occurred and the process had to be repeated with fewer attachments. Results will vary depending on the speed of your connection, and how busy the court server is. Based on these results, the court recommends keeping the file size of any one transaction under 20 MB.
